financial impact. Up to 100 insurance risks can be mapped according to their frequency and severity. Once this is complete, an effective risk transfer (insurance) strategy can be defined.

- 80 parameters to check general and product liability / product recall extension,
- 75 parameters to check motor, agricultural and special plant machinery.

Reducing Operational Risk Costs

What is the best level of self-insurance? You might be overspending on low deductibles. Based on your historical data, our internal data, and data from insurers, our team builds expected loss scenarios for different deductibles. This allows you to choose the most cost-effective combination of insurance premium and expected losses, which you will cover under your own retention in the event of a claim.

Insurance policy and claims management system/software

Discover how to organise and streamline your policy and claims management documents to reduce administrative costs and improve efficiency. Through our online platform, you can access comprehensive overviews and detailed information anytime, ensuring you always have the most current data at your fingertips.

Assessment of Production and Storage Facilities by GrECo engineers

We help you to enhance the physical security of your property to lower insurance premiums and reduce the likelihood of a claim being denied. You receive expert evaluations to identify vulnerabilities in your facilities, business operations, and liability exposures, helping mitigate risks and enhance the efficiency of your insurance.

30+ recommendations to improve insurance coverage

Get a second opinion on your current insurance coverage to identify gaps and ensure comprehensive protection. Our Food & Agriculture team uses a checklist to assess the quality of your main insurance wordings:
